

International Day of Family Remittances

16 JUNE

Your dream to make a difference

The International Day of Family Remittances (IDFR) recognises the financial contribution migrant workers make to the well-being of their families and to the sustainable development of their homeland. The efforts of millions of migrants have helped improve the lives of their families back home, providing them with hope for a better tomorrow.